

AGENDA FOR PEACE TALKS IS ADOPTED

Program For Discussions Between Israel and Egypt Dodges No Major Issues

TO DRAFT ARMISTICE

Rhodes, Jan. 14—(P)—Swift adoption of a four-point agenda emphasizes expressions of hope for peace by both Israeli and Egyptian spokesmen at the Rhodes armistice talks.

Authoritative sources said the program for the talks, approved unanimously at the opening conference late yesterday, dodges no military issue between the Cairo and Tel Aviv governments.

A dispatch from Tel Aviv, however, said the Israeli foreign office now fears little more than a re-drawing of truce lines may result.

These are the topics Egyptian and Israeli delegates will discuss:

(1) Assurances as regards military offensives and national security.

(2) Implementation of Security Council resolutions of Nov. 4 and Nov. 16, including: (a) The Faluja pocket (where Israelis have penned up an Egyptian brigade); (b) Delineation of an armistice line; (c) Withdrawal of forces; (d) Reduction of forces.

(3) Drafting of an armistice agreement.

(4) Initiating of the armistice agreement.

Dr. Eliahu J. Bunche, the United Nations' Acting Palestine mediator, urged the negotiators to hurry.

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—The United States and Britain were reported today to have reached a better understanding on the explosive Palestine situation.

But officials indicated after a fast round of diplomatic conferences here that important policy differences exist which may grow worse unless Arab-Jewish fighting in the Holy Land is brought to an end as quickly as possible.

President Truman freshly emphasized to his news conference yesterday that American policy is aimed at creating peace and stability in the Middle East.

But while he denied that relations with Britain have become strained over the Palestine situation, this basic split apparently remains in the attitudes of the two nations:

While the weight of American support over many months has fallen on the side of the new Jewish state of Israel, the British are bound to the Arab states by various treaties of alliance.

If Britain at the time feels compelled to go to the defense of its middle-eastern allies, authorities here fear grave harm might be done to relations between this country and the United Kingdom.

Truman Suggestion To Hike Taxes On Incomes Of $6,000 And Up Draws Criticisms

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—Capitol Hill gave a chilly reception today to President Truman's implied suggestion that individuals making $6,000 a year and up might pay more federal income taxes.

Economy-minded lawmakers shouted again for less spending—instead of tax increases—to balance the federal budget.

Mr. Truman asked congress last week for $4,000,000,000 in new taxes. He said new levies against corporations should collect most of it, but he suggested that congress consider a tax boost on individuals in the "middle and upper" income brackets.

When a reporter pressed for a definition of "middle" income the President told his news conference yesterday the treasury considers this bracket to begin at about $25,000 a year, running up to $50,000 or $60,000 a year.

Mr. Truman added smilingly that a man who makes $6,000 probably would want the middle bracket to start at $10,000.

The President also was asked about what a reporter described as the view held by President Roosevelt that $25,000 ought to be the maximum take-home pay. He replied that he had no set views on this, but that if a man has got brains enough to know about the tax laws of the United States to make more than $25,000 a year, he probably is entitled to make it.

The news conference discussion of taxes came as a bi-partisan congressional bloc gathered strength for a battle to trim down Mr. Truman's $41,858,000,000 budget in history. Senator Byrd (D., Va.) sounded the refrain that "with a little economy" no new taxes will be needed.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), incoming chairman of the House appropriations committee, told the House meanwhile that he is convinced "we can make sizable and justifiable reductions" in the presidential budget. He said he has in mind particularly the proposed spending of the armed services.

Congressional reaction to the President's mention of the $6,000 and up income figure—for more taxes—was instant.

Western Electric is the principal American manufacturer of telephone equipment, just as A. T. and T. is dominant in the telephone service field.

In addition, the attorney general requested court orders to require both companies to make their numerous patents in the telephone field available to any person or company desiring to use them on a "reasonable royalty basis" and to supply such persons or companies with the "know-how" for their use.

Clark said he is asking that A. T. and T. be required to dispose of all its holdings in Western Electric, and that the latter be dissolved and reorganized into three separate competing manufacturing concerns.

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—The Justice Department filed suit today to divorce the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Western Electric Corporation.

Western Electric is the manufacturing subsidiary of A. T. and T. Attorney General Tom Clark announced that the action, in the form of a civil anti-trust complaint, was filed this morning in federal district court at Newark, N. J.

It charges A. T. and T. and Western Electric, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary, with "conspiracy to monopolize" the telephone business in the United States.

EXPECT QUICK APPROVAL FOR DEANACHESON

Nominee For Secretary Of State Before Group In Closed Session During Day

TESTIMONY IS SECRET

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—Dean Acheson won unanimous approval of the senate foreign relations committee today to be secretary of state.

Quick confirmation is expected in the senate, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee has announced that the nomination will come up there next week.

Acheson—who denied he ever was an "appeaser" of Russia got a clean bill after a secret session with the committee this morning in which he discussed in detail his views on foreign affairs.

Members said that before they vote they expect to know details of Acheson's attitude toward continuing the cold war with Russia.

The nominee skirted that question in public testimony yesterday, except to remind senators that Mr. Truman had said there will be no change in the administration's foreign policies.

Acheson made it clear that the chief executive will have the final decisions, but he cast himself in the role of a strong secretary, unafraid to argue with the president over policy matters but unswerving in carrying out final decisions.

Acheson's vigorous defense of his views and his associations produced signs that senate opposition to his appointment is near collapse.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader who opposed Acheson for undersecretary of state in 1946, said he still knows no one who organized floor fight will be made against confirmation.

Senator Taft of Ohio promised to check senate Republican policy members for their views. But he said the group may not even meet if he finds there is no opposition sentiment. Taft is expected to vote for confirmation.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), who recently blasted the administration for "killing" the bipartisan foreign policy, told his associates: "I don't see any chance of beating him. I haven't seen any documentary evidence against him."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee said he hopes to bring the Acheson nomination up early next week. He forecast overwhelming senate approval, although Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said he thinks there will be a few "no" votes.

Highways 10X

Pittsburgh, Jan. 14—(P)—Bad driving conditions in scattered western Pennsylvania areas were reported today by the Pittsburgh Automobile Club. Freezing rain glazed highways in Fayette, Somerset and Cambria counties and the Pennsylvania turnpike was icy from Donegal to New Baltimore.

The weather bureau said temperatures would rise to 45 degrees tomorrow after a low of 28 tonight.

Killed by Auto

Altoona, Jan. 14—(P)—William H. Rembold, 47, of R. D. 2, Altoona, was killed by auto last night while crossing Route 220 near Greenwood. Lola Bradfield, 50, also of Greenwood, hit by the same car was reported in serious condition in Altoona hospital.

Meekins Murder Trial

Pittsburgh, Jan. 14—(P)—An inquest into the slaying of Carole Lee Kensingler will be held Jan. 27. The 12-year-old girl was stabbed to death Dec. 10 at her home in Brunsdon. Police have found no clues.

Bill Odom Fails In Attempt For Record Non-Stop Flight

Saa Francisco, Jan. 14—(P)—Winter weather stopped lanky Bill Odom a continent short on a flight he had announced as a non-stop attempt from Honolulu to New York. But it didn't rob him of a new world record for light planes.

The 29-year-old flier, dapper in the grey plaid "lucky suit" he had worn on two record around-the-world flights, landed his 185-horsepower, single engine Beechcraft Bonanza at Oakland airport at 6:30 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time) last night.

He was 22 hours and six minutes—and 2,375 statute miles—from his Honolulu takeoff at 8:32 p. m. (PST) Wednesday.

Official recognition of his record must await approval by the National Aeronautics Association. But the distance computed by Civil Aeronautics Authority officials is about 313 miles over the 2,061.7-mile mark set by two Russians, A. Goussarov and V. Glebov, in 1937.

Odom's record is for light personal aircraft with a motor cylinder displacement of 6.5 to 9 liters. There are three other categories, all based on cylinder displacement, for such planes.

He changed his course for a landfall off San Francisco, and 19 hours 53 minutes after his takeoff his "Waikiki Beech" flew over the Golden Gate bridge.

Then the weather conspired against him one more. The CAA told him of clouds and icing conditions over Nevada. His little plane had no de-icers.

Odom said he "tried to pick a hole through the clouds over the mountains, but it was no go."

He turned back over Reno, Nev., returning to Oakland.

The youngster, in Washington to help officially open the campaign, was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Leonard Brown, and shared a birthday cake with the President.

Air Pick-Up Service Through Area to Terminate June 30th

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—The flying mail man familiar to 121 eastern communities will fold his wings soon, making way for full scale air service to the larger cities in the same area.

Suspension of the 10-year old experiment in air pick-up service was announced by the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday the board issued a three-year certificate to All American Airways, Inc., for passenger-mail-cargo service to more than 40 cities in seven states with the provision that pick-up flying be suspended as the new service begins.

Air mail pick-up service was begun in May, 1939, as an experiment in fast communications linking communities too small ever to support regular airline operations.

Many of the pick-up points have no airport.

The decision to end the experiment was attributed to rising costs and the limitations of flying only in daylight on pick-up routes.

The post office, supporting suspension, said that in many cases air mail was delayed by present scheduling.

Mail payments to All American rose to $953,443 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1947. They amounted to $487,468 in the next six months, a sum equal to 14.5 cents for every letter picked up.

The service operated with single engine planes carrying a retractable 15-foot arm from which was suspended a hook attached to a rope. The hook engaged a loop attached to the mail pouch on the ground and the bag was reeled in. Mail was delivered simply by tossing out the pouch.

Towns as small as 550 persons thus have received daily air mail service. The routes extend in five directions from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Wilmington, Del.; Williamsport, Pa.; Jamestown, N. Y.; Cincinnati, Ohio, and Huntington, W. Va.

In addition to authorizing the start of full scale airline service by All American, the CAB extended its previous grant of routes to include service between Pittsburgh and New York-Newark by way of (Turn to Page Eight)

Power Line Repairs Will Delay Broadcast

LeRoy Schneck, program director for WNAE, calls attention to an enforced change in the regularly scheduled program events for Sunday morning, when the local station will go on the air at 10 a. m. instead of the customary hour of 8:00. The schedule change is occasioned, he states, by power line repairs scheduled during the morning hours by Penelec. J. F. Fenstermacher, district manager for Penelec, said today the line repairs will effect power supply in Sheffield, Clarendon and Kinzua, but not in Warren borough, during the time the work is being done, 7:30 until 10:00 a. m. The shut-off for WNAE will be through its transmitter, located on the Warren-Kinzua road.

Senate Okays Bill Boosting Executive Pay

Washington, Jan. 14—(P)—A bill hiking the pay of the president, vice president and speaker of the house is headed for house action Monday after overwhelming senate approval.

Passage in the house seemed virtually certain. The measure cleared the senate by a 68 to 9 margin last night, the first major action in the 81st congress.

The bill was shorn in the senate of provisions for raising the salaries of cabinet members and other high government officials. Administration leaders feared that otherwise it might not be passed before the inauguration of President Truman and Vice President-elect Barkley on Jan. 20.

TRIAL OF WAR CRIMINALS IS FIRST ON LIST

Chiang Is Accused of Waging Conflict Because of Lure of Glimmer of U. S. Weapons

Shanghai, Jan. 14—(P)—Mao Tze-Tung, Chinese Communist leader, today demanded abrogation of treaties between U. S. and the United States as one of eight prerequisites of peace.

The Red leader, in a Chinese language broadcast heard here, also demanded trial of "war criminals," presumably to follow any peace move.

Mao, accusing Chiang Kai Shek of warring against the Communists because he was lured by the glimmer of American weapons, called upon the Nationalist leader to show the sincerity of his desire for peace by accepting Mao's conditions.

Mao said China was depending on United States support against the peoples' will. He added that the Red soldiers will liberate them.

Eight peace conditions (which may be modified by an English language broadcast) were given:

1. Trial of all "war criminals." Chiang heads the Red list of "war criminals," followed by Madame Chiang, who is now in the United States.

2. Cancellation of the constitution.

3. Calendar years to be counted from Anno Domini and not from the Republic of China's founding.

4. Elimination of "reactionaries" from the government and army.

5. Confiscation of "bureaucratic" capital.

6. Land reforms.

7. Cancellation of "treacherous" treaties with imperialist nations.

8. Formation of a state council to include all Chinese elements, except reactionaries.

Meanwhile, Tientsin's negotiators with the Reds were reported representing not only their own city but Peiping and the rest of North China under Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's command.

There was no indication, however, that they were making any progress, and the Communists were using artillery on both Peiping and Tientsin, apparently trying to bring about a swift capitulation.

The report of the broadened scope of the peace talks came from Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa in Peiping, who also said that the ancient capital of China was shelled for the second day in a row.

Moosa said his report came from Tientsin, 90 miles southeast of Peiping. He had talked by telephone with a foreign source there.

He said he learned that the Tientsin city council, which had been represented as speaking only for that city in its talks with the Reds, was "representing the five provinces under Fu Tso-Yi's command and the two municipalities of Peiping and Tientsin."

While he spoke of five provinces, actually Fu's command was shrunk through Red advances to the four surrounded cities of Peiping, Tientsin, Tangku-Tientsin's port—and Taiyuan to the west, and part of the inner Mongolian province of Suoyuan.

Censorship would not permit Moosa to say how many shells were lobbed into Peiping by the Reds waiting outside the walled city.

Moosa reported a "brisk battle" in progress around the fringes of Tientsin.

One of the shells which fell in Peiping landed next door to the U. S. Information Service Office, which is about a quarter of a mile from the legation section.

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey
"WHEN MY BABY SMILES AT ME" at the Library Theatre
Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey, that wonderful team of "Mother Wore Tights", have been brought together in another story about show business that for human warmth, dramatic appeal and song and dance excitement is even grander than its memorable predecessor.

The picture is "When My Baby Smiles At Me," which Twentieth Century-Fox has photographed in color by Technicolor, and which opens Sunday - Monday - Tuesday at the Library Theatre. This is the story of show people as they really are, told in the on-stage, back-stage and off-stage life of a couple who tried to climb the ladder of the "big time"—together.

Briefly, "When My Baby Smiles At Me" is the dramatic love story of the devotion of a beautiful burlesque dancer in the day when burlesque was at its greatest—married to a lovable but undependable comic, with talents outstripping his sobriety. It's a story packed with honest excitement of the flamboyant world that was the stage, and the give-and-take drama of show business itself.

Betty Grable's singing, dancing and acting are at their peak in her portrayal of "Bonny Kane", while Dan Dailey reaffirms his status among the screen's most talented and refreshing stars, with an expert performance as her hotheaded husband. June Havoc is Betty's chorine girl-friend; Jack Oakie is on hand, playing a typical burlesque comic; Richard Arlen is Betty's patient suitor; and Jimmy Gleason is seen as the sympathetic stage manager.

Church Planning Dedication Anniversary Program Sunday

The Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren congregation is observing on Sunday the 38th anniversary of the dedication of the church, with special services throughout the day.

At the 11 a. m. worship period, the sermon will be delivered by Dr. S. Paul Weaver, of Jamestown, N. Y., who is Erie Conference superintendent of the denomination and served the Youngsville church as pastor in 1927-28.

For its anthem for this special day, the choir will sing "I Will Extol Thee" by Nolte.

Junior church and nursery meet simultaneously with the morning worship. At 10 a. m., the church school meets and every member is asked to be present to reach the anniversary goal of 225. Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m.

An informal service of fellowship has been planned at 2:30 p. m., when the history of the church will be read by Louis Crippen; the women's trio and the men's chorus will provide special music, and greetings will be read or given by former pastors and members. All members and friends of the parish are cordially invited to share in this service.

The evening friendship service, at 7:30 o'clock, will feature another message by Dr. Weaver; the choir anthem, "Stand Up For Jesus" by von Berge; and a song service of gospel tunes and choruses.

Dr. Weaver, who was first appointed Conference Superintendent in 1934 to fill the unexpired term of Dr. N. H. McAllister, has been reappointed for succeeding terms and is one of the best known figures of the denomination in this section.

He was serving as acting pastor of Hill Memorial church on Bradford at the time of his appointment and had been pastor of Glendale church in Erie for six years prior to that time. It was recalled by many that he was pastor of the Warren United Brethren church, now the Bethel Evangelical United Brethren parish, when its tabernacle was located on Pennsylvania avenue, east. In the intervening years, he served a number of churches in Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

He was graduated from Sugar Grove Seminary in 1914, secured his first quarterly license at the age of 17, and was ordained at Youngsville in 1918. He was graduated from Lebanon Valley College in 1923, received his bachelor of divinity degree from Gordon College in Boston in 1926, and Intoxicated driving was listed as fifth on the list with a total of 482 cases, or 2.2%. Of cases of revocation, driving while intoxicated was the leading cause, with larceny and failure to stop in second and third places.

Our 63rd Year

New Chevy To Be Shown Here Jan. 22

Chevrolet's 1949 passenger cars, completely restyled and possessing more mechanical improvements than any model within recent years, go on display at dealer showrooms here Saturday, January 22.

The automobile is the product of three years of engineering research and design development. Begun immediately after V-J Day, experimental work has included 1,088,000 miles of test driving over the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground and arid highways of the southwest.

The local showing will be held simultaneously with displays in other cities and is expected to draw one of the biggest crowds in the history of events of its kind.

"From inquiries at our offices and dealer showrooms, we know that literally millions are waiting to see the car," said T. H. Keating, general sales manager. "Chevrolet's solid reputation for value and reports of impressive new features have kindled a nationwide interest.

"We do not believe the public will be disappointed. While the car carries numerous comfort and convenience advances, it maintains our tradition of rugged, reliable transportation at the lowest possible cost."

Board Named At Meeting of The C. of C.

The Warren Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the Chamber Office, 5 Bank & Trust Co. Bldg. The principal part of the meeting was devoted to the election of the board of directors who will function for the Chamber during 1949. Messrs. A. E. Kinney, F. E. Redding and Charles F. Warren tabulated the ballots of election and reported to Roy L. Elrod, president, that the following had been elected to the board by the Chamber membership: Nels Anderson, J. A. Elomquist, Ralph

E. Brasington, A. L. Chapman, J. Richard Check, W. S. Clark, George S. Frantz, M. G. Keller, F. E. Kishauer, E. W. Knapp, Roy Y. Kouf, N. D. Peterson, A. L. Rasmussen, R. W. Steber and W. E. Yeager.

Following the election Mr. Elrodterson, Nels Anderson and W. E. Yeager to serve as a committee to nominate the officers of the new board. These nominations will report at the organization meeting of the board to be held next Thursday, January 20, at 4 p. m., at the Chamber office.

Financial reports of the Chamber and the Credit Bureau were presented and showed increased improvement during 1948.

Grover G. Lind served as secretary protem for the meeting which was well attended.

There's More to An Ad Than Reading It!

Here are the necessary steps to reproducing an ad in the Times-Mirror:

1. After the Ad Man has sold the ad it must be properly laid out and scheduled.
2. It goes to the mark up man who marks the type sizes and styles on it.
3. The Linotype operators set all the machine type.
4. The printer sets the hand type.
5. The compositor puts all the pieces together. Proofs it.
6. The proof reader makes the necessary corrections.
7. The floor man sets it in the page forms.
8. The stereotyper rolls a mat of the complete page form.
9. The press room boys make a round cast of this page.
10. Put it on the press . . . start the press . . . clean out the nigger heads and sinks on the page.
11. Now the paper is ready for the circulation department . . . it goes either to the newsboy or the Post Office.

Here Mr. Merchant is the reason why we at the Times-Mirror must have your copy not later than 2 P. M. two days before publication . . .

May we have your co-operation

TAXING PROSPECTS

More than one tax man has his eye on you this year, and each one means business, warns a dispatch from New York on the business outlook.

The $4 billion extra that President Truman asks in taxes may look pretty big to you. But wait till the state and local tax men get through with you. They really are out looking for money this year to meet soaring budgets and government costs.

More cities are talking about adding their own income taxes to the state and federal levies. City fathers may soon seek to extend their tax powers to commuting areas. State revenues have been falling because people, stores and factories have been moving out to escape city evils.

Some places have decided that television is an amusement and are taxing taverns that use it to lure customers. Some states are reported seeking a way to tax the air—that is, the air lanes through which planes fly.

Many of you have a date this Saturday with the federal tax collector, to wind up your 1948 payments.

If you're a businessman, you probably have a date with one or more tax collectors every month in the year, if only to report on the tax withheld, at your accounting expense, from your employees' pay. Every little while you also pay corporation taxes, franchise taxes, business taxes, unemployment insurance for your workers, real estate taxes, sales taxes, and so on.

As a citizen, everything you do is subject to tax, direct or indirect, whether you know it or not. If you try to go on living, the tax collectors have got you. If you die, they have a field day. If you feel generous, there's a tax on gifts. Only charity is relatively free of tax, and some legislators are talking about a levy on religious and charitable property.

BILLS FLOOD CONGRESS

If Congress doesn't have another bill introduced this session, it still will have enough work stacked up to keep it talking until approximately 1951.

Latest information from Washington is that around 2,000 bills already have been introduced. If this is a normal session, another 5,000 bills may be expected.

But these numbers are somewhat deceptive.

Let's assume you are a congressman. You have a large Polish community in your district.

Naturally you yearn to keep the voters happy. So what will you do?

Well, you may introduce a bill to authorize President Truman to proclaim Oct. 11, 1949, as General Pulaski Memorial Day.

Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich.), who has introduced such a bill, points out that this will commemorate the death of Brig. Gen. Casimir Pulaski. Count Pulaski, in case your history has rusted, helped G. Washington in the Revolutionary war.

Well, the clerk of the House judiciary committee says that, in addition to Lesinski's, five other bills call for the same thing. And that last year the committee got 14 similar bills and expects a similar haul this session.

Samples of other duplicate bills:

Repeal the Taft-Hartley law, make Alaska and Hawaii states, to form a committee of the world's outstanding experts to study the cause of cancer, to set aside March 30 of each year as National Shut-In Day.

Some bills conflict. Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn.) hates daylight saving time. He has a bill to make "standard time the measure of time for all purposes." Senator McGrath (D-R. I.) has one to authorize daylight saving time in the District of Columbia.

There is the usual run of bills involving limited areas.

Rep. Bland (D-Va.) figures the government ought to examine and survey Pope Creek, in Westmoreland, Va. Rep. Poulson (R-Calif.) would like for that hunk of ice on Mount Baker, Wash., to be named Kiser Glacier. Delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii) thinks air mail service should be extended to Kalaupapa.

Ohio seems to feel particularly neglected.

Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) has a name for a new bridge across the Potomac—"The Ohio Bridge." And Rep. Jenkins (R-you know where) wants to change the name of Eastern Avenue in Washington, to Ohio avenue, of course. Chin up, Ohio. The boys are doing their best.

Warren still enjoys unusually balmy weather and it

"We Make a Deal, Huh?"

Here And There

This And That: They'll be lighting candles down on Laurel street Saturday to remind our old associate and veteran printer, Clarence Mahood, that he's one year older. . . . LeRoy Schneek, well known and popular WTAE program director and announcer, has been limping around for the past few days, but it wasn't an awing that caused his "downfall" this time. Just in case he hasn't "aired" the reason, or in event the reader may not have been tuned in on his early morning "heart-to-heart" talks, it might be explained here that his somewhat crippled condition was caused by roller skating—but we haven't learned as yet whether it was from exercising long-dormant muscles or coming in contact with the floor too often. . . . The Franklin school board has voted to fix May 26, 1949, as the date for the annual commencement, and Howard E. Reed, an official of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, is the commencement program speaker. . . . The directors of the Retail Merchants Bureau at Bradford have agreed along with other bureau members to close their stores on the following days during the ensuing year: Monday, May 30, Monday, July 4, Labor Day, September 5, Thanksgiving Day, November 24 and Christmas day. It has also been agreed that the stores remain open on Good Friday and Armistice Day, however, it has been recommended that all merchants grant their employees time off on Good Friday from noon until three o'clock to attend church services. . . . Jimmy Hengst, new boys' work secretary at the YMCA, who incidentally, is doing a whole lot of a job for the boys who frequent the department, is reviving the advisory board composed mostly of dads interested in his particular project, and it looks like he'll be rewarded with deserved results. . . . The St. Marys Press is responsible for a report that men have been at that place checking on the amount of mail, express, baggage and milk handled by passenger trains 970 and 971 operating between Erie and Emporium and return. Says the Press: "No indication was given what the checking was for but it has been presumed the P.R.R. might petition for removal of the two trains on the grounds they do not pay their way." From where we sit it would seem that railroad officials would have a check on "mail, express, baggage and milk" as well as passenger fares, with out going to the expense and trouble of delegating special agents to make such a survey. . . . From the Warren Ledger of January 15, 1938, we learn "The ice men are gathering their crop, about these days. The ice is taken from the river between the suspension and the R. R. bridges. It is of good quality, but not so thick as the gatherers would desire. But it is harvested now rather than run the risk of thicker ice or no ice at all." . . . And here's another paragraph from the same issue that makes interesting reading: "Among the amusements this winter is that of exercising fast horses. The sleighing has been good for some weeks and the horses have nothing to do but make their best time when occasion requires. The piece of road much used to that on Water street, between the Carver House and the railroad bridge. Some afternoons the sidewalk along the whole distance is lined with spectators. At such times business takes the back street, but not the back seat, for business must be done." . . . Any day now we'll be experiencing some of that California winter!

Mackenzie, aeronautic specialist with the Department of Commerce, Washington, in company with promoters of the Warren airport, visited proposed flying fields in this vicinity for the purpose of gathering data which will culminate in a report as to which location is most suitable. . . . Due to the unprecedented number of flu cases, flowers are becoming increasingly scarce here according to local florists. Prices have gone up but still hothouses are unable to keep up with the demand. In Pittsburgh, florists have resorted to the use of artificial flowers to supplement scarce supplies. . . . Easier credit conditions and favorable trade news, including an unexpectedly large increase in the orders of the United States Steel Corporation, provided the groundwork for another brisk advance in prices in today's stock market. A long list of issues advanced 3 to 10 1/2 points above yesterday's quotations. . . . A comparatively small attendance at a mass meeting denoted lack of support in effort to continue the fair as no future could be seen for it as a paying proposition. . . . Dr. W. H. Haines and daughter, Harriette, are leaving to spend several months in Clearwater, Florida.

Ohn F. Moore of Carter Hill was the first maple syrup of the season. The moderate spell of weather has also brought other harbinger of spring such as robins and dandelions in bloom. . . . Mrs. Leonard Rosenzweig is to be speaker at the January meeting of the College Club to be held at the home of Miss Anna Rockwell, Third avenue. . . . The young people of the Miller Hill Sunday school held a party recently at the home of Miss Barbara Spicer. . . . Game officials will make an effort to remove wild rabbits in the borough by use of specially constructed box traps and release them to stock wooded sections of the county. . . . Oxydol sells for 18c, large size, at the Red and White stores. Pineapple is 17c and 3 cans of corn are 25c. . . . Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lowe, who have been visiting in Venturatown, are returning to Trinidad, British West Indies, on January 25th. . .

County Extension Workers Are Planning Annual Meeting

O. C. Tritt, county farm agent, advises that the annual meeting of all those interested in the agricultural extension activities of Warren county, has been scheduled for next Wednesday, January 19, in the large court room of the court house, getting under way at ten o'clock in the morning.

The morning session will include election of officers and reports on the various projects. Those who will present their reports include: Darrell Lay, the campaign; Bernette Weller, value of crop cropping; Clarence Carter, 4-H Club—An Asset to the Community; Arvid Gruber, Warren County Holstein Club; Theodore Leofsky, senior extension work; Harry Ludwig, artificial breeding program; David Marshall, Calf Club, Charles Camp, district dairy show.

At noon, the group will have a joint luncheon meeting with the Kiwanis Club, when the speaker will be C. W. Lillibridge, former superintendent of McKean county schools, whose topic will be "The Service Club and The Farmer."

Home economics reports will be made in the afternoon in the form of a round table discussion, with Miss Mabel Satterthwaite, assistant home economics leader, serving as chairman.

Those who will participate in the panel are Mrs. George Christian, Sheffield; Mrs. Robert Scott, Lottsville; Mrs. Clyde Waddell, Lottsville; Mrs. Edward Albert, Tidewater; Mrs. W. G. Lyon, Russell, and Mrs. Lloyd Price, Bear Lake.

The program will be concluded with a few remarks by Harold R. McCulloch, of State College, who is assistant director of agricultural extension in the state.

Those wishing to make reservations for the luncheon are asked to call the extension office no later than Monday.

Murder Gets Around

BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

Chapter 25

"AND THAT, I think, is that," I murmured, and poked up my drink.

Paula took her lovely eyes off the retreating figure of Parrish and turned them on me.

"As your prospective wife, darling," she said, "I suppose I shouldn't butt in on your business affairs. But might I ask if there goes your killer?"

"You might," I said to her.

"Ever since you've taken up this crazy business you have no business in your head," she said. "Did you know that?"

And then with one of the patient-applied-for Paula Grant quick changes, she said with a sigh, "Okay, okay. Let's talk about you, then. What does the other guy look like?"

"Huh?" I echoed, not thinking. "Your face and head, darling. The lumps. Did you forget to lead with your fists again?"

"I couldn't; they were tied!" I blurted out.

"Why were your hands tied? Who tied them? What did this happen? And what did you do about it?"

"Hold it, hold it!" I tried to stop her with raised hands. "I don't know. For sure anyway. Look, you want to help me with this thing?"

"Help you with what thing? Parrish is your killer, isn't he? Why don't you have him arrested? Well, why don't you?"

"If you will only shut that beautiful mouth a moment, Beautiful!" I pleaded. "Now, what did you and Parrish have to say to each other?"

"None of your business! And I think he's rather fascinating, even if he isn't good-looking."

"So you won't help?" I said wearily.

"Maybe I could help if you'd tell me all about it," she said. "Whatever it is all about."

I shook my head.

"It would take too long," I parried. "But when it's all cleaned up, sure!"

"Thanks!" she bit off.

She reached out quickly, and covered my hand with hers.

"Sorry, Pal," she said softly. "What do you want to know?"

"Only what you and Parrish talked about," I said. "If anything."

"Well, it was mostly this and that," she said. "He was busting a gut to be polite, but I could tell he had a lot on his mind."

"He's got more than that now. I think I murmured. 'Did he tell you about Carden?'"

"Yes," she replied with a little shiver.

"Tried to pump you about me, huh?" I murmured.

"Yes," Paula nodded. "Very anxious to know what progress you'd made. Just as though you'd told me. But he certainly had his nerve thinking, I mean, even if he was a little bit of a jerk."

I grinned, and pressed her hand some more.

"SPEAKING of nothing at all," I put in casually. "I was sure you'd last night around eleven-thirty."

"There, it was out, and I certainly felt an awful creep fool for having asked it. But I guess Paula thought I wanted to know because maybe I had pressed her at that time. Anyway, she didn't bristle or jump at any second meanings."

"At the movies with Beth Price," she said. "Call her and check if you like. Where were you?"

I would throw boomerangs! "In a room," I grinned.

WE, THE WOMEN

By Ruth Millett

One woman I know made these resolutions for New Years. It seems to me a good many other women could benefit by adopting them.

To spend more time with the people she really likes and less time on people who don't really matter to her.

To trim down her list of activities so that she can really enjoy the things she does, instead of rushing breathlessly from one thing to another.

To put family life above keeping up with the crowd and doing the things that are "expected" of her.

To learn how to turn down an invitation or refuse to take on new duties.

To be happy with what she has, instead of kidding herself that she would be happy if only this or that were different.

To arrange her life so that she feels she is doing the important things, and never mind what other people think about the way she chooses to live.

To refuse to hurry.

To be content with less than perfection in herself and in those she loves.

Not to care too much about the opinions of people who aren't really close to her.

To refuse to worry because she can't do everything she would like to accomplish.

The woman who makes those resolutions—and sticks by them—will be doing what she can to make for herself a happy New Year.

We're a "fresh up" family!

Checks Out, Bankers In For Father's Spring Suit

New York—(NEA)—Apparently Man—the male branch—has given up on notions he had of becoming a peacock. After flitting for a while with gaudy raiment, the Wool Council says that men have fled back into the conservatism that used to feature their clothing.

For a while it looked as though Man had decided to imitate the lower animals, and the birds, and to make himself more gorgeous than his womenfolk. He tried out gay patterned fabrics that needed no out-speakers to make themselves heard; he tried lapel-less coats, and trousers full of pleats; he tried pinched waists, foot pants and noisy plans.

Now he's returning to normal. For the spring of 1949 he's going conservative. He is asking and getting flannels, medium-weight tweeds, sleek, rounded, all in restrained patterns. He's returning to the '30s, maybe because he finds he needs a little space, and with it a new slanting toward the single-breasted cut.

The general impression of the Council remains that everyone wants to look like a banker, or at least like the model of a respectable family man.

The only novelty that is gaining favor is the old reliable patch pocket on spring and summer suits.

Gray and green find their fanciers, but the Council says that blue, in disfavor for several years, is so popular it's almost becoming a uniform.

The new coats are straight-hanging, with shoulders modestly square and masculine—whatever that may be—and hips "what the boys call slender." The chest is full, but not pouter pigeon.

Topcoats for spring follow the same trend. Caricatureously shaped bodies are giving way to loose, where-like woollens.

Springtime (1949) for the American Male. The Wool Council says everybody wants to look like a banker.

There'll Always Be a Lion

This lion is the symbol of a London brewery. It was pretty badly messed up during the blitz, and the brewery's recent rebuilding plans called for its removal. But the public wanted it to stay, on the grounds that it was a symbol of London's survival. And the public won.

Acheson Testifies Before Senate Committee

Dean Acheson, right, newly-appointed secretary of State, appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in Washington, where he pledged himself to follow retiring Secretary George C. Marshall's policy of firmness in U.S. relations with Russia. Talking with him at the hearing are Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, left, ranking Republican member of the committee, and Chairman Tom Connally (D) of Texas.

To Coach Reds

Luke Sewell, the only man ever to lead the St. Louis Browns to an American League pennant, was signed to coach the Cincinnati Reds. The 48-year-old Sewell, who won the pennant with the Browns in 1934, returns to baseball after a two-year absence. According to Cincinnati officials, he will be one of the highest paid coaches in the major leagues.

Destroyer Gets De-Cocooned

One of five destroyers being reconitioned in Long Beach, Calif., the USS Barton has the lid removed from its funnel by sailors. The five ships, currently "cocooned," will be used to rebuild strength of the Pacific fleet. They were retired after World War II.

Check Your Rod, Old Man?

Ross Hancock, left, manager of a London theater, requires that all the roopin', tootin', two-gun shootin' London kids check their weapons before seeing American Wild West movies. A seven-year-old cowpoke hands over his shootin' iron. Hancock made the rule so the youngsters won't hurt themselves in excitement of the film.

The world's smallest plane, the "Wee Bee," is practically lost next to the world's largest, the Convair-U.S. Air Force X-99. The two got together at Lindbergh Field, San Diego, Calif. The "Wee Bee's" designer, Ken Howard, shown on the tiny plane, claims his creation is practical.

Whatsa Matter, Sailor, Weak?

Although he huffs and he puffs, Seaman Robert Bradford of Chicago can't budge the famous leaning tower of Pisa, Italy. The U.S. Sixth Task Fleet visited ports in northern Italy, and the sailors got in a little sightseeing. P.S. This is a trick photo, in case you didn't know. (NEA-Acme photo from U.S. Navy.)

Now We Have the 'Atomic Clock'

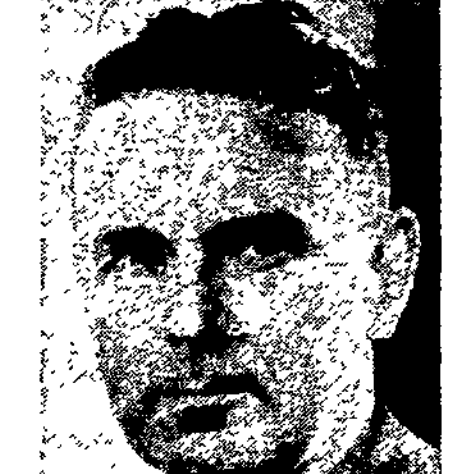

This is an atomic clock—and theoretically, it can run for 3,000,000 years before gaining or losing a second. Developed by the Bureau of Standards in Washington, its mechanism is guided by ammonia atoms, which is said to make it more accurate than the stars. Dr. Harold Lyons, right, who directed research on the project, explains its operation to the bureau's director, Dr. Edward U. Condon, left, and Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer.

Monsieur Gets Along

BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

Chapter 26

MY FRIENDS still wouldn't believe me, even if I put both hands on a Bible, but it so happens that by nine-thirty that night I was in my apartment, in my pajamas, and settled comfortably in my favorite chair.

The jigsaw puzzle was now all complete. That is, as far as my interest in it was concerned. All that remained was to make sure that the pieces remained stuck together, and justice prevailed. That would not be determined until tomorrow at the earliest. And so, brushing it all to one side, I drank down my cold beer and reached for one of the papers.

And at that moment my telephone on the table in the corner chose to ring!

I recognized Henri Barone's voice!

"This is Barone," I said.

"I would like to see you, Monsieur Barone," he said. "I would like to see you very much."

"What about?" I asked. "And can't it keep until morning?"

"No, I am afraid not," he said. "Could you not come up here, Monsieur? It is not so far."

"Where's here?" I asked quickly.

He gave me an address in the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth way over west by the Hudson River. I got a little sore.

"Are you kidding?" I snapped. "It so happens I'm ready for bed. Why should I chase way up there? If it simply can't keep until morning, you come down here. I'll wait up thirty minutes for you."

"One moment, I beg of you, Monsieur," he almost cried down the telephone wire. "Do not be offended, but it is impossible for me to come down there. I have been hurt, Monsieur Barone. My leg. But I must speak to you about ... about Zara. You will come here, yes?"

I didn't say anything. Instead, I did a lot of fast and furious thinking. So Henri (of the dirty game) Barone wanted to see me about Goldielocks? Did the guy think I was a dope? Did he think that the Barnes was a dead, dumb, and blind dope? It would appear so.

"You are there, Monsieur?" his anxious voice came into my ear.

"Yes, I'm here," I told him. "What about Goldie ... I mean Zara?"

"I am sorry," he said. "It is impossible to tell you over this telephone. But you will come, yes?"

"All right, Barone," I said. "I guess I can come, if you insist."

"Thank you, and I also beg of you, Monsieur," he broke in on me. "Okay, okay," I stopped him. "What's your apartment number, and floor?"

"It is the basement rear, Monsieur Barone," he said.

RIDING uptown in the cab I tried hard to figure out a reason, if any, why Barone should want to see me about Goldielocks. And I did a lot of thinking, too, about his injured leg. Had it been an accident, how bad, and all that sort of thing.

A couple of blocks this side of my intended destination I swung off the caddy, paused on the sidewalk to light a cigarette, and to look around.

From force of habit I stuck my hand under my jacket front and made sure my gun was resting loose and free in the holster. And then I started walking up the street. Barone's building wasn't much to look at.

The south side of the building was fitted snug to the wall of the next, but there was a passageway to the rear on the other side. The glow from the light that way over Barone's door shed enough glow across the end to silhouette anything, or anyone, who might be in the alley. And I couldn't see a single silhouette.

And right out of nowhere a million tiny things came sweeping straight into my eyes. Even as I went blind I knew it was a cloud of pepper. And even as I ducked and groped for my gun, I knew it was too late. Something hit me a terrific clip on the top of my poor head. My legs went out from under me, and all the colored comets in the heavens played tag around my scrambled brain.

Time passed, of course, and forward movement continued, while I sat there in the middle of nothing not knowing a thing, and not caring a terrible lot, either. Fortunately, though, my bouncing back qualities are as good as the next man's, and so little by little I began to get things a little straighter. But that was all the good it did me. I mean, I still didn't have an eye. I could open, or a muscle I could move. Life for me was going on, but I was halfway in between, if you get what I mean.

Anyway, I finally knew that I was in the front seat of a car, and that somebody on my left was driving the car at a steady road-covering pace. I also could tell I was in a well-traveled road. Other cars passed us going both ways. I felt sure, too, that I was near water.

If only I could move! Just my hand. Reach out with my left hand and grab whoever was driving the car. I couldn't move even a finger.

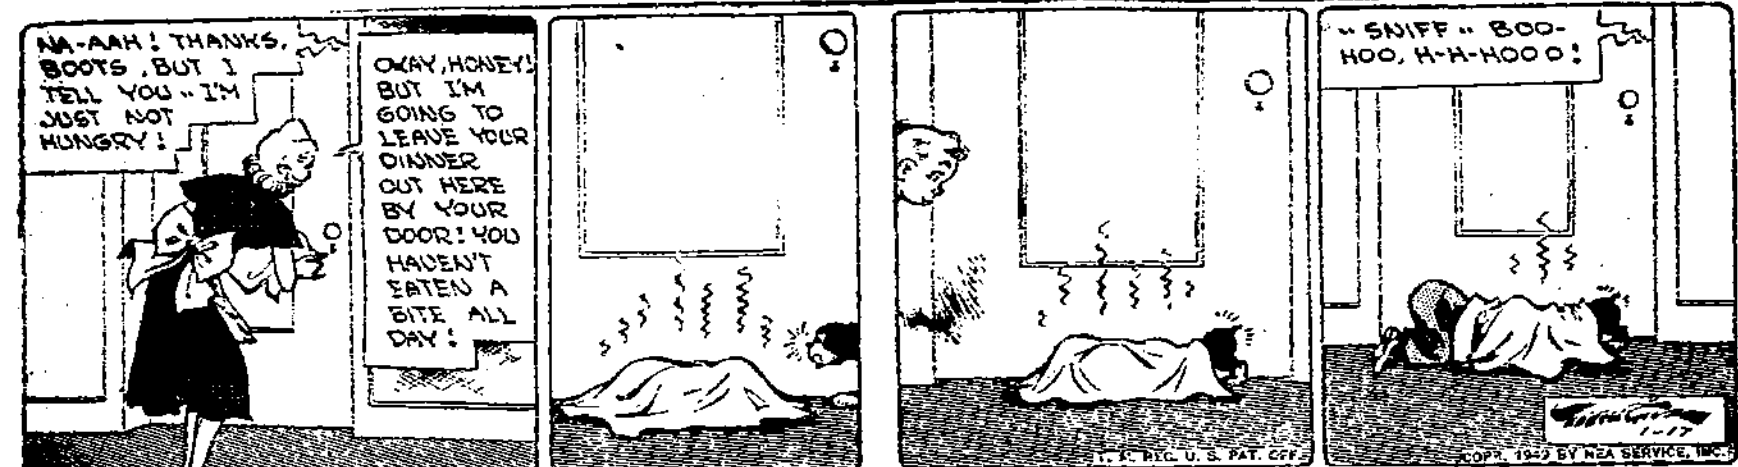

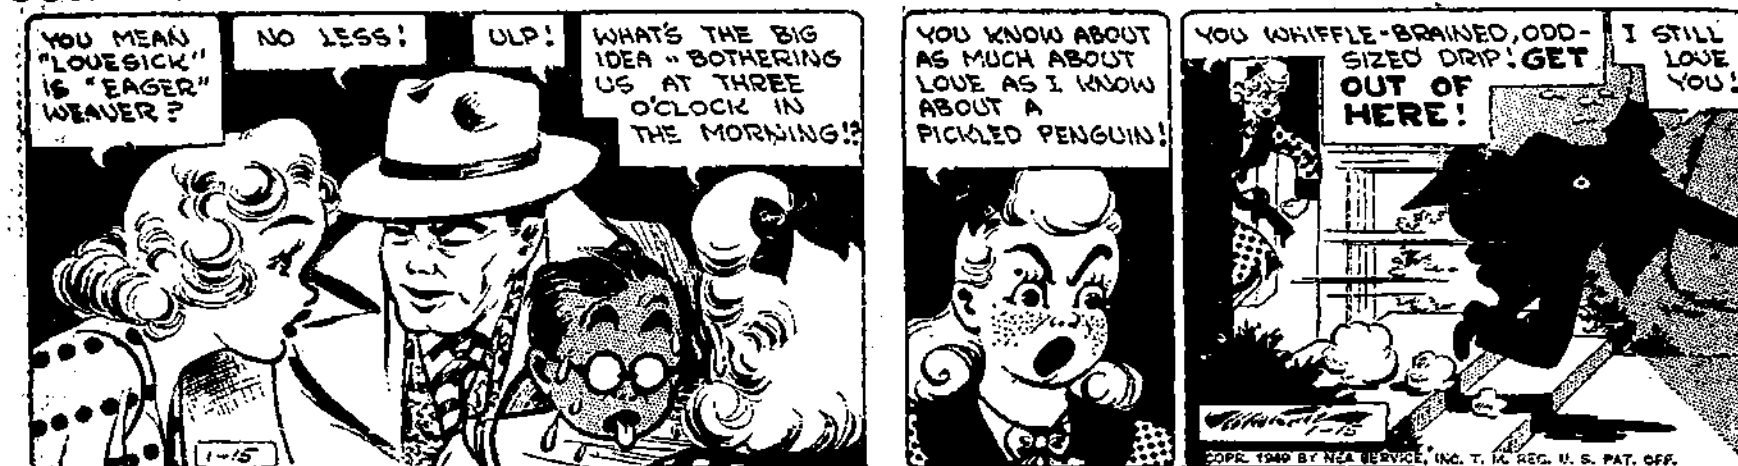

More time passed, but I didn't improve any. I even began to slip back a little. The tiny corner of my brain that was trying desperately to function with a fair amount of clarity seemed to break up and become all mangled up by the whizzing stars and comets. And then just when it seemed that nothing in the world could save me from sinking under again for good the person driving the car turned it sharply to the left and the car broke. My whole body jerked, but I did not have anything to do with jerking it.

An instant later I could tell that the driver was reaching across in front of me. Reaching across and opening the door on my side. I knew and that's all I just knew it. But I was unable to catch what followed. Fingers fumbled at my neck. In the middle of a sudden blaze of white light I thought that my necktie was being pulled tighter. I was having the Lord's own trouble to breathe. And then ... and perhaps it's true that those who are about to die see all, and understand all for one fleeting split-second ... I knew that it was not my tie being pulled tighter and tighter. It was thin strong wire. And it was digging deeper and deeper into the flesh of my neck.

Jaycee Week Observance Is Set Here

The week of January 14th to the 21st will be observed throughout the United States and Canada as National Jaycee Week in commemoration of the founding of the Junior Chamber of Commerce movement.

Many Jaycee chapters will observe the week with the selection of the outstanding young man of the year in the community and award him with the distinguished service award. During this week, announcement will also be made of the selection of the ten outstanding young men of 1948 in the United States.

The Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce which has been organized for less than a year will not choose an outstanding young man this year but will observe Jaycee Week with a special meeting.

Next Wednesday, January 19th, local Jaycees will hold a dinner meeting in the YMCA starting at 6:30. Wendell Lawson, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of the affair and announced that an interesting and entertaining program will be presented for the event.

and WNAE and Mutual have some top programs for you to listen to. At 1.00 p. m. Orrie Beebe has a quarter hour of organ melodies followed by the Warren news round-up at 1:15. At 1:30 WNAE features True or False. This program is tape recorded Saturday evening but you'd never be able to guess it if we didn't tell you.

When it comes to Hooper ratings, Mutual has the edge over all the other WEBS on Sunday afternoon and early evening.

The Ford Winner Trio has a 30 minute spot on the Sunday evening schedule right after "Secret Mission" to keep listening.

Comes Monday morning if Joe's three alarm clocks go off and he doesn't stumble in the creek on the way to work, chimetime will start ringing the bell at 6:00 a. m. If you don't get up that early, no matter, dial 1310 when you do get up. If you're up at 7:45 there's some more "stuff" too.

Can't stop until we mention the March of Dimes. Today is the first day of the campaign to collect funds to help fight polio. Again this year, the battle of the two cities will be used to help collect funds for Warren and McKean county. The "Kane Parade" will collect for McKean county and "Please Play" is going to be beating the drum in a large way for the Warren county fund this year. Remember . . . McKean county got the greater share of the dough last year to win the prize . . . the polio fund benefitted all the way around.
